

WE NEED IT NOW!

KEYSTONE XL IS MORE THAN A PIPELINE. IT'S A LIFELINE.

Today, unemployment among the American building and construction workforce is unacceptably high – far above the national unemployment rate. Allowing Keystone XL pipeline construction to begin in five of the six states where the route is not in question will mean most of the projected 20,000* direct jobs can be created immediately.

After more than three years of study it's time to put the safest, most highly trained and productive workforce in the world to work building this important project.

Call the White House at 202-456-1111 and tell them:
We need Keystone XL now!

ongil-mc.org

