Recognition and Authority of Published Standards

The API Monogram, Repair and Remanufacture, and APIQR Programs are committed to maintaining the integrity of API's licensing and certification programs. To help meet this commitment, the API Monogram, Repair and Remanufacture, and APIQR Programs require each applicant, licensee, and/or registrant to possess an official active subscription for all API documents identified in the scope of the application, license, and/or registration. The subscription content must include a watermark containing the organization's name. The organization shall maintain subscription access through either API directly or an API-authorized redistributor as long as the organization is actively participating in any API licensing and certification program.

Failure to comply with the above may result in the suspension or cancellation of the organization's API Monogram License(s), API Repair and Remanufacture Program License(s) and/or APIQR Certificate(s) of Registration. Authorized subscriptions can be purchased through API directly or through an authorized API redistributor listed on API's website. To verify whether any given company is an authorized redistributor, please contact apipubs@api.org.
