

Oil and Natural Gas Stimulate New Mexico Economic and Job Growth

Oil and natural gas are driving the U.S. economy through a major energy boom and that boom is rippling through the economy of New Mexico, supporting business activity across the state. This finding grows out of a new American Petroleum Institute survey of domestic oil and natural gas vendors,¹ which offers a glimpse into the job and business creation engine that is the current oil and natural gas industry. The survey shows that at least 902 businesses, spread across all three of New Mexico's congressional districts, support the larger oil and natural gas supply chain.

The survey's snapshot of state-by-state activity reinforces the impressive level of industry success throughout the country that is documented in a recent PriceWaterhouseCooper study conducted for the American Petroleum Institute.² The study found that the oil and natural gas industry in New Mexico supports some 105,600 jobs, which is 9.9 percent of the state's total employment. The full New Mexico labor income supported by the oil and natural gas industry totals $5.35 billion annually. That's 10.3 percent of the state's total labor income.

Another way in which the oil and gas industry benefits the people of New Mexico, in addition to total employment and labor income, is in terms of salary.³ While the average annual salary in New Mexico across all industries and sectors is $39,660, the average salary in the oil and gas industry (excluding gas stations) is very significantly higher—$71,505⁴ annually. Overall the industry supports $11.3 billion of the New Mexico economy. That's 14.2 percent of the state's total economic activity.

New Mexico ranks 6th in oil and 7th in natural gas production.⁵ That makes it one of the nation's top energy-producing states.

New Mexico also benefits from the production of oil and natural gas from

The survey was distributed to API members in January 2014 to collect information for the period October 2012 to September 2013. Included are companies that provide goods and services for onshore oil and natural gas development, whether as operators, contractors, service companies, suppliers, or vendors.

2. PriceWaterhouseCoopers, "Economic Impacts of the Oil and Natural Gas Industry on the U.S. Economy in 2011," Washington, D.C., July 2013. Prepared for API using the IMPLAN input-output modeling system, based on 2011 U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis data.

3. Information cited in this paragraph comes from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Quarterly Census of Employment and Wages (preliminary data for 2013 accessed July 2014); and PriceWaterhouseCoopers, "The Economic Impacts of the Oil and Natural Gas Industry on the U.S. Economy: Employment, Labor Income and Value Added," 7/12/13 (based on 2012 IMPLAN database).

4. Data includes NAICS code 324, which may count some coal product manufacturing jobs.

shales and so-called “tight formations,” energy development that uses the proven engineering technologies of hydraulic fracturing, or “fracking,” and horizontal drilling. Total jobs supported by these activities in New Mexico reached 23,625 in 2012. The job total is projected to climb to 29,849 in 2020 and to 58,466 in 2035.⁶

And Americans, including the people of New Mexico, get it. A telephone poll of 1,012 registered voters across the country, conducted on behalf of the American Petroleum Institute, found that 77 percent of Americans, regardless of party affiliation, support increased production of oil and natural gas resources located in the United States.⁷

Vendor Profile⁸

Mesa Verde Resources

Mesa Verde Resources provides lignite—a type of coal made from naturally compressed peat that can be used for fuel—to drilling mud suppliers for the oil and gas industry. While advancing sustainable agriculture naturally is Mesa Verde’s overall focus, the oil and natural gas industry is a significant part of the company’s business.
